PREAMBLE
This Agreement, which is the product of bona fide, arm's length collective bargaining, is made and entered into as of the 8th day of March, 2006, in accordance with the provisions of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended, by and between the National Football League Management Council ("Management Council" or "NFLMC"), which is recognized as the sole and exclusive bargaining representative of present and future employer member Clubs of the National Football League ("NFL" or "League"), and the National Football League Players Association ("NFLPA"), which is recognized as the sole and exclusive bargaining representative of present and future employee players in the NFL in a bargaining unit described as follows:
All professional football players employed by a member club of the National Football League;
2. All professional football players who have been previously employed by a member club of the National Football League who are seeking employment with an NFL Club;
3. All rookie players once they are selected in the current year's NFL College Draft; and
4. All undrafted rookie players once they commence negotiation with an NFL Club concerning employment as a player.

As used in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the following meanings;

Article II, Governing Agreement
Tection 1. Conflicts: The provisions of this Agreement supersede any conlicting provisions in the NFL Player Contract, the NFL Constitution and sylaws, or any other document affecting terms and conditions of employnent of NFL players, and all players, Clubs, the NFLPA, the NFL, and the Management Council will be bound hereby. The provisions of the Stipulaion and Settlement Agreement, as amended, in White v. NFL, No. 4-92-06 (D. Minn.) ("Settlement Agreement"), shall supersede any conflicting rovisions of this Agreement. ection 2. Implementation: The NFLPA and the Management Council will se their best efforts to faithfully carry out the terms and conditions of this greement and to see that the terms and conditions of this Agreement are arried out in full by players and Clubs. The NFLPA will use its best efforts o see that the terms and conditions of all NFL Player Contracts are carried ut in full by players. ection 3. Management Rights: The NFL Clubs maintain and reserve the ight to manage and direct their operations in any manner whatsoever, exept as specifically limited by the provisions of this Agreement and the Set-ement Agreement.

Article III, Scope of Agreement

Section 1. Scope: This Agreement represents the complete understanding of the parties on all subjects covered herein, and there will be no change in the terms and conditions of this Agreement without mutual consent. Except as otherwise provided in Article V (Union Security), Section 6, on Union Security, the NFLPA and the Management Council waive all rights to bargain with one another concerning any subject covered or not covered in this Agreement for the duration of this Agreement, including the provisions of the NFL Constitution and Bylaws; provided, however, that if any proposed change in the NFL Constitution and Bylaws during the term of this Agreement could significantly affect the terms and conditions of employment of NFL players, then the Management Council will give the NFLPA notice of and negotiate the proposed change in good faith.

Section 2. Arbitration: The question of whether the parties engaged in good faith negotiations, or whether any proposed change in the NFL Constitution and Bylaws would violate or render meaningless any provision of this Agreement, may be the subject of a non-injury grievance under Article IX (Non-Injury Grievance), which shall be the exclusive method for resolving disputes arising out of this Section 2. If the arbitrator finds that either party did not engage in good faith negotiations, or that the proposed change would violate or render meaningless any provision of this Agreement, he may enter an appropriate order, including to cease and desist from implementing or continuing the practice or proposal in question; provided, however, that the arbitrator may not compel either party to this Agreement to agree to anything or require the making of a concession by either party in negotiations.

Article IV, No Strike/Lockout/Suit ARTICLE IV NO STRIKE/LOCKOUT/SUIT Section 1. No Strike/Lockout: Except as otherwise provided in Article V (Union Security), Section 6, neither the NFLPA nor any of its members will engage in any strike, work stoppage, or other concerted action interfering with the operations of the NFL or any Club for the duration of this Agreement, and no Clubs, either individually or in concert with other Clubs, will engage in any lockout for the duration of this Agreement. Any claim by the Management Council that the NFLPA has violated this Section 1 will not be subject to the grievance procedure or the arbitration provisions of this Agreement and the Management Council will have the right to submit such claim directly to the courts. Section 2. No Suit: The NFLPA agrees that neither it nor any of its members, nor agents acting on its behalf, nor any member of its bargaining unit, will sue, or support financially or administratively, or voluntarily provide testimony or affidavit in, any suit against, the NFL or any Club with respect to any claim relating to any conduct permitted by this Agreement, the Settlement Agreement, or any term of this Agreement or the Settlement Agreement, including, without limitation, the Articles concerning the College Draft, the Compensatory Draft, the Option Clause, the Entering Player Pool, Veterans With Less Than Three Accrued Seasons, Veteran Free Agency, Franchise and Transition Players, the Final Eight Plan, Guaranteed League-wide Salary, Salary Cap and Minimum Team Salary, and the Waiver System, and provisions applicable to the trading of players; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 2 will prevent the NFLPA or any player from asserting that any Club, acting individually or in concert with other Clubs, or the Management Council, has: (1) breached the terms of this Agreement, the NFL Player Contract, the revised NFL Player Contract, or the NFL Constitution and Bylaws, and from processing such asserted breach as a non-injury grievance under Article IX (Non-Injury Grievance) or asserting any claim before the Special Master or the Impartial Arbitrator as provided in this Agreement; or (2) breached the terms of the Settlement Agreement and from asserting such a claim before the Special Master, Impartial Arbitrator, or the Federal District Court, as provided for in the Settlement Agreement. In addition, neither the NFLPA nor any of its members, agents acting on its behalf, nor any members of its bargaining unit will sue, or support financially or administratively any suit against, the NFL or any Club relating to the provisions of the Constitution and Bylaws of the NFL, which are appended to the Side Letter dated July 24, 2006 from Harold Henderson to Eugene Upshaw, as they were operative and administered at the beginning date of the 2006 League Year (except any provisions relating to the 1982 CBA, which have been superseded by this Agreement); provided, however, that nothing herein shall prevent the NFLPA, its members, 10

ARTICLE V
UNION SECURITY
ection 1. Union Security: Every NFL player has the option of joining or ot joining the NFLPA; provided, however, that as a condition of employnent commencing with the execution of this Agreement and for the dura-ion of this Agreement and wherever and whenever legal: (a) any active layer who is or later becomes a member in good standing of the NFLPA nust maintain his membership in good standing in the NFLPA; and (b) any ctive player (including a player in the future) who is not a member in good tanding of the NFLPA must, on the 30th day following the beginning of is employment or the execution of this Agreement, whichever is later, pay, ursuant to Section 2 below or otherwise to the NFLPA, an annual service ee in the same amount as any initiation fee and annual dues required of temotio of the 111 Erri. ection 2. Check-off: Commencing with the execution of this Agreement, ach Club will check-off the initiation fee and annual dues or service harge, as the case may be, in equal weekly or biweekly installments from ach pre-season and regular season paycheck, beginning with the first pay-heck after the date of the first pre-season squad cutdown, for each player or whom a current check-off authorization (copy attached hereto as Apendix A and made a part of this Agreement) has been provided to the Club. The Club will forward the check-off monies to the NFLPA within sev- n days of the check-off.
ection 3. NFLPA Meetings: The NFLPA will have the right to conduct hree meetings on Club property each year, including one at the time of a Club's minicamp, provided that the player representative or NFLPA office as given the Club reasonable notice of its desire to hold such a meeting by he close of business on Friday of the week before the week in which the neeting is to take place, or by the close of business Thursday if the meeting is scheduled for the following Monday. No meeting will be held at a ing is scrieduled for the following Monday. No infecting will be field at a lime which would disrupt a coach's team schedule.
Section 4. NFLPA Player Group Licensing Program: The NFL recognizes hat players have authorized the NFLPA to act as their agent in a Group Player Licensing program (defined below) for their benefit. The NFL here-y agrees that neither it, any Club, nor any affiliate of the NFL and/or any Club shall acquire, seek to acquire, induce others to acquire, or assist others in acquire.
rs in acquiring Group Player Licensing rights, or interfere in any manner vith any player's conveyance of such rights pursuant to the NFLPA Group vith any piayer's conveyance of such rights pursuant to the NFLPA Group Player Licensing program, except as otherwise explicitly agreed to between he NFLPA and the NFL. Any disputes that arise regarding the NFL's conluct in this regard shall be submitted for expedited arbitration pursuant to

Article V, Union Security Article IX (Non-Injury Grievance). The first such grievance in any calendar year shall be treated on an expedited basis without counting against the number of grievances the NFLPA may expedite pursuant to Article IX, Section 4; all subsequent such grievances in that calendar year shall count against the number of grievances the NFLPA may expedite pursuant to Article IX, Section 4. For the purposes of this Section 4, Group Player Licensing shall be defined as the use of a total of six or more NFL players' names, signatures facsimiles, voices, pictures, photographs, likenesses and/or biographical information on or in conjunction with products (including, but not limited to, trading cards, clothing, videogames, computer games, collectibles, internet sites, fantasy games, etc.): (a) in any one product category, as defined by industry standards; or (b) in different categories if a total of six or more players are used and (i) the products all use similar or derivative design or artwork or (ii) one such player product is used to promote another player product. For the purposes of this Section 4, Group Player Licensing includes, without limitation, products sold at retail and products that are used as promotional or premium items. Section 5. Disputes: Any dispute over compliance with, or the interpretation, application or administration of this Article will be processed pursuant to Article IX (Non-Injury Grievance). Any decision of an arbitrator pursuant thereto will constitute full, final and complete disposition of the dispute, and will be binding on the player(s) and Club(s) involved and the parties to this Agreement. Section 6. Procedure for Enforcement: Upon written notification to the Management Council by the NFLPA that a player has not paid any initiation fee, dues or the equivalent service fee in violation of Section 1 of this Article V (Union Security), the Management Council will within seven days consider the matter. If there is no resolution of the matter within seven days, then the Club will, upon notification of the NFLPA, suspend the player without pay. Such suspension will continue until the NFLPA has notified the Club in writing that the suspended player has satisfied his obligation as contained in Section 1 of this Article V (Union Security). The parties hereby agree that suspension without pay is adopted as a substitute for and in lieu of discharge as the penalty for a violation of the union security clause of the Agreement and that no player will be discharged for a violation of that clause. The player's contract will be tolled during the period of any such suspension. A copy of all notices required by this "Procedure for the Enforcement of the Union Security Agreement Between the NFL Management Council and the NFLPA" will be simultaneously mailed to the player involved and the Management Council. (b) It is further agreed that the term "member in good standing" as used in this Article V (Union Security) applies only to payment of dues or 13

Article VI, NFLPA Agent Certification ARTICLE VI NFLPA AGENT CERTIFICATION Section 1. Exclusive Representation: The NFLMC and the Clubs recognize that, pursuant to federal labor law, the NFLPA regulates the conduct of agents who represent players in individual contract negotiations with Clubs. The NFLMC and the Clubs agree that the Clubs are prohibited from engaging in individual contract negotiations with any agent who is not listed by the NFLPA as being duly certified by the NFLPA in accordance with its role as exclusive bargaining agent for NFL players. The NFLPA shall provide and publish a list of agents who are currently certified in accordance with its agent regulation system, and shall notify the NFLMC and the Clubs of any deletions or additions to the list pursuant to its procedures. The NFLPA agrees that it shall not delete any agent from its list until that agent has exhausted the opportunity to appeal the deletion pursuant to the NFLPA's agent regulation system, except: (i) where an agent has failed to pass a written examination given to agents by the NFLPA or (ii) in extraordinary circumstances where the NFLPA's investigation discloses that the agent's conduct is of such a serious nature as to justify immediately invalidating the agent's certification. The NFLPA shall have sole and exclusive authority to determine the number of agents to be certified, and the grounds for withdrawing or denying certification of an agent. The NFLPA agrees that it will not discipline, dismiss or decertify agents based upon the results they achieve or do not achieve in negotiating terms or conditions of employment with NFL Clubs. This section shall not limit the NFLPA's ability to discipline agents for malfeasance. Section 2. Enforcement: Under procedures to be established by agreement between the NFL and the NFLPA, the Commissioner shall disapprove any NFL Player Contract(s) between a player and a Club unless such player: (a) is represented in the negotiations with respect to such NFL Player Contract(s) by an agent or representative duly certified by the NFLPA in accordance with the NFLPA agent regulation system and authorized to represent him; or (b) acts on his own behalf in negotiating such NFL Player Contract(s). Section 3. Penalty: Under procedures to be established by agreement between the NFL and the NFLPA, the NFL shall impose a fine of $15,000 upon any Club that negotiates any NFL Player Contract(s) with an agent or representative not certified by the NFLPA in accordance with the NFLPA agent regulation system if, at the time of such negotiations, such Club either (a) knows that such agent or representative has not been so certified or (b) fails to make reasonable inquiry of the NFLPA as to whether such agent or representative has been so certified. in Section 3 above; provided, however, that the NFLPA expressly reserv the right to challenge the imposition of such discipline for conduct det mental to the Club based upon the absence of just cause and/or any oth allowable bases for opposing discipline.
Section 8. Offset of Pre-Season Fine Amounts: In the event that a play under contract is fined in the maximum category of $14,000 per day f unexcused late reporting for or absence from pre-season training camp an as the result of such late reporting or absence, the Club also witholds pa ment, or claims reimbursement, under any forfeiture provision in a Play Contract executed prior to March 8, 2006, then there shall be an offset the cumulative amount of such daily fines against the amount claimed l the Club under the forfeiture provision, or vice versa. In the 2006 Leagn Year, the offset shall be $8,000 per day for each day the player has been fined, representing the difference between the CBA's prior maximum fin

ARTICLE IX
NON-INJURY GRIEVANCE
Section 1. Definition: Any dispute (hereinafter referred to as a "griev	ance" arising after the execution of this Agreement and involving the inte tion of, application of, or compliance with, any provision of this Agre the NFL Player Contract, or any applicable provision of the NFL Co tion and Bylaws pertaining to terms and conditions of employment players, will be resolved exclusively in accordance with the proced	ure se forth in this Article, except wherever another method of dispute reso is set forth elsewhere in this Agreement, and except wherever the	Settle ment Agreement provides that the Special Master, Impartial Arbitra Federal District Court or the Accountants shall resolve a dispute.
Section 2. Initiation: A grievance may be initiated by a player, a Ch	ıh th Management Council, or the NFLPA. A grievance must be initiated forty-five (45) days from the date of the occurrence or non-occurren on which the grievance is based, or within forty-five (45) days from the on which the facts of the matter became known or reasonably shoul been known to the party initiating the grievance, whichever is later. er need not be under contract to a Club at the time a grievance rela him arises or at the time such grievance is initiated or processed.	6 Section 3. Filing: Subject to the provisions of Section 2 above, a pl	aver o the NFLPA may initiate a grievance by filing a written notice by co

If the grievance involves a suspension of a player by a Club, the player NFLPA will have the option to appeal it immediately upon filing to the tice Arbitrator and a hearing will be held by an arbitrator designated by Notice Arbitrator within seven (7) days of the filing of the grievance. In dition, the NFLPA and the Management Council will each have the righ immediate appeal and hearing within seven (7) days with respect to (4) grievances of their respective choice each calendar year. The arbitrato designated to hear such grievances will issue their decision(s) within (5) days of the completion of the hearing. Prehearing briefs may be filed either party and, if filed, will be exchanged prior to hearing.	CL Dy ethici party and, ii nicd, win be exchanged phot to hearing.
Section 5. Discovery: No later than ten (10) days prior to the hearing, e	each party will submit to the other copies of all documents, reports and reco relevant to the dispute. Failure to submit such documents, reports records no later than ten (10) days prior to the hearing will preclude non-complying party from submitting such documents, reports records into evidence at the hearing, but the other party will have the portunity to examine such documents, reports and records at the hea and to introduce those it desires into evidence, except that relevant de ments submitted to the opposing party less than ten (10) days before hearing will be admissible provided that the proffering party and the todian(s) of the documents made a good faith effort to obtain (or disc the existence of) said documents or that the document's relevance was discovered until the hearing date. In the case of an expedited grievance suant to Section 4, such documentary evidence shall be exchanged o before two (2) days prior to the hearing unless the arbitrator indic otherwise.
Section 6. Arbitration Panel: There will be a panel of four (4) arbitrate	tors, whose appointment must be accepted in writing by the NFLPA and Management Council. The parties will designate the Notice Arbitrator w in ten (10) days of the execution of this Agreement. In the event of a cancy in the position of Notice Arbitrator, the senior arbitrator in term	ns of affiliation with this Agreement will succeed to the position of Notice A	\rbitrator, and the resultant vacancy on the panel will be filled according to procedures of this Section. Either party to this Agreement may dischar member of the arbitration panel by serving written notice upon the a trator and the other party to this Agreement between December 1 and of each year, but at no time shall such discharges result in no arbitrator maining on the panel. If either party discharges an arbitrator, the other ty shall have two (2) business days to discharge any other arbitrator. If parties are unable to agree on a new arbitrator within thirty (30) days of vacancy, the Notice Arbitrator shall submit a list of ten (10) qualified	, experienced arbitrators to the NFLPA and the Management Council. W

Article IX, Non-Injury Grievance in fourteen (14) days of the receipt of the list, the NFLPA and the Management Council shall select one arbitrator from the list by alternately striking names until only one remains, with a coin flip determining the first strike. The next vacancy occurring will be filled in similar fashion, with the party who initially struck first then striking second. The parties will alternate striking first for future vacancies occurring thereafter during the term of this Agreement. If either party fails to cooperate in the striking process, the other party may select one of the nominees on the list and the other party will be bound by such selection. Section 7. Hearing: Each arbitrator will designate a minimum of twelve (12) hearing dates per year, exclusive of the period July 15 through September 10 for non-expedited cases, for use by the parties to this Agreement. Upon being appointed, each arbitrator will, after consultation with the Notice Arbitrator, provide to the NFLPA and the Management Council specified hearing dates for such ensuing period, which process will be repeated on an annual basis thereafter. The parties will notify each arbitrator thirty (30) days in advance of which dates the following month are going to be used by the parties. The designated arbitrator will set the hearing on his next reserved date in the Club city unless the parties agree otherwise. If a grievance is set for hearing and the hearing date is then postponed by a party within thirty (30) days of the hearing date, the postponement fee of the arbitrator will be borne by the postponing party unless the arbitrator determines that the postponement was for good cause. Should good cause be found, the parties will share any postponement costs equally. If the arbitrator in question cannot reschedule the hearing within thirty (30) days of the postponed date, the case may be reassigned by the Notice Arbitrator to another panel member who has a hearing date available within the thirty (30) day period. At the hearing, the parties to the grievance and the NFLPA and Management Council will have the right to present, by testimony or otherwise, and subject to Section 5, any evidence relevant to the grievance, All hearings will be transcribed. If a witness is unable to attend the hearing, the party offering the testimony shall inform the other party of the identity and unavailability of the witness to attend the hearing. At the hearing or within fourteen (14) days thereafter, the party offering the testimony of the unavailable witness must offer the other party two possible dates within the next forty-five (45) days to take the witness' testimony. The other party shall have the opportunity to choose the date. The record should be closed sixty (60) days after the hearing date unless mutually extended notwithstanding any party's failure to present post-hearing testimony within the above-mentioned time period. If a witness is unavailable to come to the hearing, the witness' testimony may be taken by telephone conference call if the parties agree. In cases where the amount claimed is less than $25,000, the parties may agree to hold the hearing by telephone conference call. If either party requests post-25

Article X, Injury Grievance

Section 1. Definition: An "injury grievance" is a claim or complaint that, at the time a player's NFL Player Contract was terminated by a Club, the player was physically unable to perform the services required of him by that contract because of an injury incurred in the performance of his services under that contract. All time limitations in this Article may be extended by mutual agreement of the parties.

Section 2. Filing: Any player and/or the NFLPA must present an injury grievance in writing to a Club, with a copy to the Management Council, within twenty-five (25) days from the date it became known or should have become known to the player that his contract had been terminated. The grievance will set forth the approximate date of the alleged injury and its general nature. If a grievance is filed by a player without the involvement of the NFLPA, the Management Council will promptly send copies of the grievance and the answer to the NFLPA.

Section 3. Answer: The Club to which an injury grievance has been presented will answer in writing within seven (7) days. If the answer contains a denial of the claim, the general grounds for such denial will be set forth. The answer may raise any special defense, including but not limited to the following:

- (a) That the player did not pass the physical examination administered by the Club physician at the beginning of the pre-season training camp for the year in question. This defense will not be available if the player participated in any team drills following his physical examination or in any pre-season or regular season game; provided, however, that the Club physician may require the player to undergo certain exercises or activities, not team drills, to determine whether the player will pass the physical examination;
- (b) That the player failed to make full and complete disclosure of his known physical or mental condition when questioned during the physical examination:
- (c) That the player's injury occurred prior to the physical examination and the player knowingly executed a waiver or release prior to the physical examination or his commencement of practice for the season in question which specifically pertained to such prior injury;
- (d) That the player's injury arose solely from a non-football-related cause subsequent to the physical examination;
- (e) That subsequent to the physical examination the player suffered no new football-related injury;
- (f) That subsequent to the physical examination the player suffered no football-related aggravation of a prior injury reducing his physical ca-

time, if any, after their examinations before players would be phys	sically abl to perform contract services. The NFLPA will use its best effort the neutral physicians in each Club city equally available to the pl	layers who file injury grievances.
Section 5. Neutral Physician List: The NFLPA and the Ma	nagemen Council will maintain a jointly approved list of neutral physiciar ing at least two orthopedic physicians in each city in which a ( cated. This list will be subject to review and modification betwee ary 1 and April 15 of each year, at which time either party may

Section 6. Appeal: A grievance may be appealed to an arbitrator by filing of written notice of appeal with the chairman of the arbitration panel within thirty (30) days from the date of receipt of the neutral physician's written report.

Section 7. Arbitration Panel: There will be a panel of five (5) arbitrators, whose appointment must be accepted in writing by the NFLPA and the Management Council. The parties shall designate the Chairman of the panel. In the event of a vacancy in the position of the Chairman of the panel, the senior arbitrator in terms of affiliation with this Agreement will succeed to the position of Chairman of the panel, and the resultant vacancy on the panel will be filled according to the procedures of this Section. Either party to this Agreement may discharge a member of the arbitration panel by serving written notice upon the arbitrator and the other party to this Agreement between December 1 and 10 of each year, but at no time shall such discharges result in no arbitrators remaining on the panel. If either party discharges an arbitrator, the other party shall have two (2) business days to discharge any other arbitrator. Any vacancies occurring on the arbitration panel will be filled as follows: If the parties are unable to agree to a new arbitrator within thirty (30) days of the occurrence of the vacancy, the Chairman of the panel shall submit a list of ten (10) qualified and experienced arbitrators to the NFLPA and the Management Council. Within fourteen (14) days of the receipt of the list, the NFLPA and the Management Council shall select one arbitrator from the list by alternately striking names until only one remains, with a coin flip determining the first strike. The next vacancy occurring will be filled in similar fashion, with the party who initially struck first then striking second. The parties will alternate striking first for future vacancies occurring thereafter during the term of this Agreement. If either party fails to cooperate in the striking process, the other party may select one of the nominees on the list and the other party will be bound by such selection.

Section 8. Hearing: Each arbitrator shall designate a minimum of twelve (12) hearing dates per year, exclusive of the period July 15 through September 10, for use by the parties to this Agreement. Upon being appointed, each arbitrator will, after consultation with the Chairman, provide to the NFLPA and the Management Council specified hearing dates for each of the ensuing six months, which process will be repeated on a semiannual basis thereafter. The parties will notify each arbitrator thirty (30) days in advance of which dates the following month are going to be used by the parties. The designated arbitrator will set the hearing on his or her next reserved date in the Club city, unless the parties agree otherwise. If a grievance is set for hearing and the hearing date is then postponed by a party within thirty (30) days of the hearing date, the postponement fee of the arbitrator will be borne by the postponing party unless the arbitrator determines that the postponement was for good cause. Should good cause found, the parties will share any postponement costs equally. If the arbit tor in question cannot reschedule the hearing within thirty (30) days of postponed date, the case may be reassigned by the Chairman to anotl	ner panel member who has a hearing date available within the thirty (30) of period. At the hearing, the parties to the grievance and the NFLPA a Management Council will have the right to present, by testimony or oth wise, any evidence relevant to the grievance. The NFLPA and the Mana ment Council have the right to attend all grievance hearings. All hearin	ıgs shall be transcribed.

If a witness is unable to attend the hearing, the party offering the te	stimony shall inform the other party of the identity and unavailability of	the witness to attend the hearing. At the hearing or within fourteen (14) de-	ays thereafter, the party offering the testimony of the unavailable witness m	ust offer the other party two possible dates within the next forty-five (45) d	ays to take the witness' testimony. The other party shall have the opportur	ity to choose the date. The record should be closed sixty (60) days after	the hearing date unless mutually extended notwithstanding any party's fail	ure to present post-hearing testimony within the above-mentioned time po	eri-
od. If a witness is unavailable to come to the hearing, the witness' testin	10-ny may be taken by telephone conference call if the parties agree. In ca	ses where the amount claimed is less than $25,000, the parties may agree	to hold the hearing by telephone conference call.
Post-hearing briefs must be submitted to the arbitrator postmarked	no later than sixty-five (65) days after receipt of the last transcript. The ar	·bitrator will issue a written decision within thirty (30) days of the submissi of briefs but shall not consider briefs filed by either party more than six	ity-five (65) days after receipt of the last transcript, unless the parties agree o	th-erwise. The arbitrator's decision will be final and binding, provided, ho ever, that no arbitrator will have the authority to add to, subtract from,	or alter in any way any provision of this Agreement or any other applica	ble document. In the event the arbitrator finds liability on the part of the Cli he shall award interest beginning one year from the date of the last regu	ılar season game of the season of injury. The interest shall be calculated at

Article XII, Injury Protection ARTICLE XII INJURY PROTECTION Section 1. Qualification: A player qualifying under the following criteria will receive an injury protection benefit in accordance with Section 2 be-The player must have been physically unable, because of a severe football injury in an NFL game or practice, to participate in all or part of his Club's last game of the season of injury, as certified by the Club physician following a physical examination after the last game; or the player must have undergone Club-authorized surgery in the off-season following the season of injury; and The player must have undergone whatever reasonable and customary rehabilitation treatment his Club required of him during the off-season following the season of injury; and The player must have failed the pre-season physical examination given by the Club physician for the season following the season of injury because of such injury and as a result his Club must have terminated his contract for the season following the season of injury. This pre-season physical may be given by the Club physician prior to the beginning of pre-season camp, so long as such fact is clearly communicated to the player at the time of the physical exam. The past understanding of the parties conceming a Club releasing a player who otherwise qualifies under (a) and (b) above prior to the pre-season physical examination will apply during the term of this Agreement (see Appendix B). Section 2. Benefit: A player qualifying under Section 1 above will receive an amount equal to 50% of his contract salary for the season following the season of injury, up to a maximum payment of $275,000, if he is released pursuant to Section 1(c) above in the 2006-08 League Years unless he has individually negotiated more injury protection or a larger guaranteed salary into his contract. This amount shall be increased to $300,000 in the 2009 League Year and, if they are Uncapped Years, in the 2010-11 League Years; to $325,000 in the 2010-11 League Years, if they are Capped Years; and to $350,000 in the 2012 League Year. A player will receive no amount of any contract covering any season subsequent to the season following the season of injury, except if he has individually negotiated injury protection into that contract. The benefit will be paid to the player in equal weekly installments commencing no later than the date of the first regular season game, which benefit payments will cease if the player signs a contract for that season with another Club. A player will not be entitled to such benefit more than once during his playing career in the NFL, and such benefit shall be reduced by any salary guaranteed to the player for the season fol lowing the season of injury. 36

Article XII, Injury Protection
Section 3. Disputes: Any dispute under this Article will be processed under Article IX (Non-Injury Grievance). In any grievance in which the NFLPA or a player is claiming an injury protection benefit, the NFLPA or the player may contend that the player should not have passed the pre-season physical examination given by a Club following the season of a player's injury. In any such grievance, the NFLPA or the player may introduce evi- dence from a physician selected by and paid for by the player regarding the player's physical condition at the time of the Club's pre-season physical exam, provided that such physician conducted his examination of the player within fourteen (14) days of the player's contract termination, but no later than the date of the first pre-season cutdown. Any such evidence will be considered with the evidence from the Club physician, and the arbitrator shall give no special deference to the evidence presented by either physician. If the NFLPA prevails in such a grievance, then the requirements of Section 1(c) above shall be deemed to have been satisfied.

Article XIII, Committees ARTICLE XIII COMMITTEES Section 1. Joint Committee: (a) A Joint Committee on Player Safety and Welfare (hereinafter the "Joint Committee") will be established for the purpose of discussing the player safety and welfare aspects of playing equipment, playing surfaces, stadium facilities, playing rules, player-coach relationships, and any other relevant subjects. The Joint Committee will consist of six members: three Club representatives (plus advisors) and three NFLPA representatives (plus advisors). The Joint Committee will hold two regular meetings each year on dates and at sites selected by the Committee. Special meetings may be held at any time and place mutually agreeable to the Committee. The Joint Committee will not have the power to commit or bind either the NFLPA or the Management Council on any issue. The Joint Committee may discuss and examine any subject related to player safety and welfare it desires, and any member of the Committee may present for discussion any such subject. Any Committee recommendation will be made only to the NFLPA, the Management Council, the Commissioner, or any appropriate committee of the NFL; such recommendation will be given serious and thorough consideration. (b) The Joint Committee may employ consultants to assist it in the performance of its functions; the compensation and expenses of any such consultants will be paid in such manner as the Committee decides. The respective members of the Joint Committee will be selected and the length of their terms fixed under such rules as the NFLPA and the Management Council separately establish; the original appointees on the Committee will be selected within thirty (30) days following the execution of this Agreement. The NFLPA and the Management Council agree that a task for the Joint Committee to undertake promptly upon the execution of this Agreement is a review of all current materials on the player safety aspects of player equipment, playing surfaces, including artificial turf and other safety matters Immediately following the NFL annual meeting, the NFLPA will be given notice of all proposed playing rule changes, either tentatively adopted by the Clubs or put over for further consideration at a later league meeting. If the NFLPA believes that the adoption of a playing rule change would adversely affect player safety, then within seven (7) days of receiving such notice the NFLPA may call a meeting of the Joint Committee to be held within one (1) week to discuss such proposed rule change. Within five (5) days after such meeting, if the NFLPA continues to believe that the adoption of a playing rule change would adversely affect player safety, the NFLPA may request an advisory decision by one of the arbitrators design nated in Article IX (Non-Injury Grievance). A hearing before such arbitrator must be held within seven (7) days of the Joint Committee meeting and 38

the arbitrator must render his decision within one (1) week of the	hearing.
No such playing rule change will be made by the Clubs until afte bitrator's advisory decision unless the arbitrator has not rendered sion within one (1) week of the hearing. The arbitrator's decision advisory only, not final and binding. Except as so limited, nothin section will impair or limit in any way the right of the Clubs to n playing rule change whatsoever.
(d) The NFLPA shall have the right to commence an inves-	stigation before the Joint Committee if the NFLPA believes that the medica	al care of a team is not adequately taking care of player safety. Within 60 da	ys of the initiation of an investigation, two or more neutral physicians will b ed to investigate and report to the Joint Committee on the situat neutral physicians shall issue a written report within 60 days of the tion, and their recommendations as to what steps shall be taken to and correct any issues shall be acted upon by the Joint Committee

Section 2. Competition Committee: The NFLPA will have the rig	ht to appoint two persons to attend those portions of the annual meeting	ng of the NFL Competition Committee dealing with playing rules to repre	sent the players' viewpoint on rules. One of the appointees shall have a vo	te on all matters considered at the meeting which relate to playing rules. The	e NFLPA appointees will receive in advance copies of all agenda and other materials relating to playing rules provided to other Committee m Section 3. Player/Club Operations Committee:
(a) A Player/Club Operations Committee (hereinafter the tions Committee") shall be established for the purpose of examinir arising with respect to the implementation of this Agreement. The tions Committee may discuss and examine, and jointly decide, any sues; provided, however, that any consideration by the Operation	ns Committee shall not delay any grievance or other procedure under thi	is Agreement, unless the Committee jointly decides otherwise.
(b) The Operations Committee will consist of up to six (6)	6) members: the Executive Vice President for Labor Relations of the NF maximum of two (2) Club representatives (plus advisors), and the tive Director of the NFLPA and a maximum of two (2) NFLPA rep tives (plus advisors). The respective additional members of the Op Committee will be selected and the length of their terms fixed und rules as the NFLPA and the Management Council separately estab original additional members on the Operations Committee will be within thirty (30) days following the execution of this Agreement. A number on each side shall sit on all matters, and the Committee sh ly decide whether the Committee shall sit with two (2), four (4) or members on any given matter. The Operations Committee will ho

Article XIV, NFL Player Contract ARTICLE XIV NFL PLAYER CONTRACT Section 1. Form: The NFL Player Contract form attached hereto as Appendix C will be used for all player signings. This form cannot be amended without the approval of the Management Council and the NFLPA. Section 2. Term: The NFL Player Contract shall expire on the last day of the last League Year subject to such Contract. Section 3. Changes: Notwithstanding Section I above, changes may be agreed to between a Club and a player in a player's contract or contracts consistent with the provisions of this Agreement and the Settlement Agreement. (b) The NFL Player Contract shall provide that, other than any rights the player may have as a member of the class in White v. NFL, No. 4-92-906 (D. Minn.) to object to the Settlement Agreement during its review by the District Court, the player waives and releases any claims: (i) arising out of, related to, or asserted in that action; and (ii) for conduct engaged in pursuant to the Settlement Agreement during the express term of the Settlement Agreement. Section 4. Conformity: All Player Contracts signed prior to the execution of this Agreement and in effect during the term of this Agreement shall be deemed amended in such a manner to require the parties to comply with the mandatory terms of this Agreement and the Settlement Agreement. Section 5. General, Notices, Prohibitions, etc.: (a)(i) Any agreement between any player and any Club concerning terms and conditions of employment shall be set forth in writing in a Player Contract as soon as practicable. Each Club shall provide to the NFLMC a copy of each such Player Contract within two days of the execution of such contract by the player and the Club. The NFLMC shall provide to the NFLPA a copy of each executed Player Contract it receives from a Club within two business days of its receipt of such Player Contract. It is anticipated that each Club will send a copy of each such Player Contract to the NFLMC by overnight mail the day it is so executed, and the NFLMC will send a copy of such copy to the NFLPA by overnight mail the day it is so received. The NFLMC shall provide to the NFLPA any salary information received from a Club which is relevant to whether such Player Contract complies with Article XVII (Entering Player Pool) and/or Article XXIV (Guaranteed League-wide Salary, Salary Cap & Minimum Team Salary), within two business days following the NFL's receipt of such information. Article XIV, NFL Player Contract ing Offer to an eligible player or not to designate a player as a Franchise or Transition player. Section 6. Commissioner Disapproval: (a) If the Commissioner disapproves a Player Contract for any reason, he must inform the NFLPA in writing of the reasons therefore by noon on the date following such disapproval. In the event the Commissioner disapproves any Player Contract as being in violation of the Salary Cap or Entering Player Pool, or any other provision of the Settlement Agreement or corresponding provision of this Agreement, the filing of an appeal of such disapproval pursuant to Article XV, Paragraph 5 or Article XXII, Paragraph 1 of the Settlement Agreement, or Article XXV, Section 5 or Article XXVI, Section 1 of this Agreement, shall automatically stay the Commissioner's disapproval, and the player shall continue to be free to practice and play for the Club, until the Special Master (or the District Court acting in lieu of the Special Master) issues its ruling. Provided, however, that in the event such Special Master appeal is filed within one week of or after the first scheduled regular season game of the Club: (i) the appeal shall be conducted in an expedited manner and shall be concluded within five (5) days of the filing date of such appeal; and (ii) the Special Master shall issue his ruling by the end of such five (5) day period. Provided, further, that, in the event the appeal is filed after the Club's first pre-season game, but before the date one week before the Club's first scheduled regular season game: (i) the appeal shall be conducted in an expedited manner and shall be concluded within ten (10) days of the filing date of such appeal; and (ii) the Special Master shall issue his ruling by the end of such ten (10) day period. If there is no ruling by the end of the periods prescribed in the preceding two sentences, or, for earlier filed appeals, by the day following the Club's third pre-season game, the automatic stay shall be dissolved. If the Commissioner disapproves a Player Contract for any of the reasons stated above on a second occasion for the same player during a given League Year, and determines that such player should not be able to play, there shall be no stay of such disapproval pursuant to this agreement, unless it is determined that the Commissioner's second disapproval is arbitrary or capricious. This agreement shall not prejudice or affect in any way, or constitute a waiver with respect to, any rights of class members to seek a stay or injunctive relief before the District Court, pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure; nor shall it prejudice or affect in any way the rights of the NFL to oppose, or the arguments of the NFL in opposition, to such a stay. Section 7. NFLPA Group Licensing Program: The NFL Player Contract shall include, solely for the administrative convenience and benefit of the player and the NFLPA, the provision set forth in Paragraph 4(b) of the NFL Player Contract (Appendix C hereto), regarding the NFLPA Group Licens-42

ing Program. Neither the League nor any Club is a party to, or a benery of, the terms of that provision. No Club may enter into any agreer with a Player or a Player Affiliate that is inconsistent with any rights g ed to the NFLPA pursuant to Paragraph 4(b) of the NFL Player Cont provided that this sentence is not intended and shall not be construed override or restrict the rights granted to the Club and the League purs	uai to Paragraph 4(a) of the NFL Player Contract.
Section 8. Good Faith Negotiation:
(a) In addition to complying with specific provisions in this Ag	Ţŗęε ment, any Club or player engaged in negotiations for a Player Contract cluding any Club extending, and any player receiving, a Required Ter is under an obligation to negotiate in good faith.
(b) A Club extending a Required Tender must, for so long as	tha Tender is extended, have a good faith intention to employ the playe ceiving the Tender at the Tender compensation level during the upcor season. It shall be deemed to be a violation of this provision if, while tender is outstanding, a Club insists that such a player agree to a P.
Contract at a compensation level during the upcoming season below of the Required Tender amount. The foregoing shall not affect any ri that a Club may have under the Player Contract, under this Agreemen under the Settlement Agreement, including but not limited to the rigi terminate the contract, renegotiate the contract, or to trade the play such termination, renegotiation, or trade is otherwise permitted by Player Contract, this Agreement, or the Settlement Agreement.
Section 9. Limitations on Salary Forfeitures:	.1
(a) No forfeitures of signing bonuses shall be permitted, except players and Clubs may agree: (i) to proportionate forfeitures of a sig bonus if a player voluntarily retires or willfully withholds his services one or more regular season games; and/or (ii) that if a player willfully t

Article XVI, College Draft ARTICLE XVI COLLEGE DRAFT Section 1. Time of Draft: There shall be an Annual Selection Meeting (the "College Draft" or "Draft") each League Year during the term of this Agreement and in the League Year immediately following the expiration or termination of this Agreement, with respect to which the following rules shall apply: Section 2. Number of Choices and Eligibility: The Draft shall consist of seven (7) rounds, with each round consisting of the same number of selection choices as there will be Clubs in the NFL the following League Year, plus a maximum number of additional Compensatory Draft Selections equal to the number of Clubs then in the League, with such Compensatory Draft Selections reserved for Clubs losing certain Unrestricted Free Agents. Each Draft shall be held between February 14 and May 2, on a date which shall be determined by the Commissioner. (b) No player shall be permitted to apply for special eligibility for selection in the Draft, or otherwise be eligible for the Draft, until three NFL regular seasons have begun and ended following either his graduation from high school or graduation of the class with which he entered high school, whichever is earlier. For example, if a player graduated from high school in December 2006, he would not be permitted to apply for special eligibility, and would not otherwise be eligible for selection, until the 2010 Draft. If a player who was not eligible for the Draft in any League Year becomes eligible after the date of the Draft, he will be eligible to be selected in a supplemental Draft, if the League elects to conduct such a Draft, on or before the seventh calendar day prior to the opening of the first training camp that League Year. No player may elect to bypass a Draft for which he is eligible to apply for selection in a supplemental Draft. Any Club that selects a player in a supplemental Draft must forfeit a choice in the same round in the next succeeding principal Draft. No player shall be eligible to be employed by an NFL Club until he has been eligible for selection in an NFL Draft. Section 3. Required Tender: A Club that drafts a player shall be deemed to have automatically tendered the player a one year NFL Player Contract for the Minimum Active/Inactive List Salary then applicable to the player pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. The NFL or the Club shall provide the player with notice of such Required Tender before or immediately following the Draft. Section 4. Signing of Drafted Rookies: A drafted player may accept the Required Tender at any time up 46

to and including the Tuesday following the tenth week of the regular se son immediately following the Draft, at 4:00 p.m. New York time. In t event the exclusive negotiating rights to the drafted player are assigned another Club through the NFL waiver system, the acquiring Club must is mediately extend the Required Tender following assignment. If releas through waivers, the player shall be treated as an Undrafted Rookie Fr Agent, with the right to sign an NFL Player Contract with any Club. If t Club that drafted the player signs the player after he is waived and become a Rookie Free Agent, the player's entire salary shall be counted against t Entering Player Pool, in the manner described in Article XVII (Entering Pla	ıyer Pool).
(b) If a Drafted Rookie has not signed a Player Contract during t period from the date of such Draft to the thirtieth day prior to the first Su	ınday of the regular season: (i) the Club that drafted the player may not the after trade to another Club either its exclusive negotiating rights to su player or any Player Contract that it signs with such player for the playe initial League Year; and (ii) the Club that drafted the player is the only Cl with which the player may sign a Player Contract until the day of the Dr in the subsequent League Year, at which time such player is eligible to drafted in the subsequent League Year's Draft by any Club except the Cl that drafted him in the initial Draft. (After the Tuesday following the ten week of the regular season, the player and the Club may only sign a Play	/er Contract for future League Year(s)).
(c) If a Drafted Rookie has not signed a Player Contract by the Tu day following the tenth week of the regular season, at 4:00 p.m. New Yo time, the player shall be prohibited from playing football in the NFL for t remainder of that League Year, absent a showing to the Impartial Arbitrat of extreme Club or extreme personal hardship. The determination of t Impartial Arbitrator shall be made within five days of the application, as	nd shall be based upon all information relating to such hardship submitted	by such date. The determination of the Impartial Arbitrator shall be final a	nd binding upon all parties.
Section 5. Other Professional Teams:
(a) Notwithstanding Section 4(b) above, if a player is drafted by Club and, during the period between the Draft and the next annual Dra signs a contract with, plays for or is employed by a professional footb team not in the NFL during all or any part of the 12 month period follo ing the initial Draft, then the drafting Club (or any assignee Club) shall	retain the exclusive NFL rights to negotiate for and sign a contract with t player until the day of the Draft three (3) League Years after the initial Dra and shall thereafter have a Right of First Refusal as described herein, as the player may receive offers from any Club at any time thereafter. The player er shall notify the NFLPA and the NFL of his desire to sign a contract wi contractual obligations of employment, if any. Within thirty (30) days of receipt of such notice by the NFL or the date of the availability of such player, whichever is later, the NFL Club that drafted the player must tender a one year written Player Contract to the player in order to retain its rights to that player, as detailed below.

(b) For a player to whom the drafting Club retains the exclusive NFL rights to negotiate pursuant to Section 4(a) above, the Club must tender a one year Player Contract with salary of at least the Minimum Active/Inactive List Salary for players with less than one credited season, as defined in Article XXXVIII (Salaries), within the thirty (30) day period specified in Subsection (a) above. The amount of such tender and/or any Player Contract entered into with the player shall be subject to the Entering Player Pool, as set forth in Article XVII (Entering Player Pool). If the player is released through waivers, the player immediately becomes a Free Agent, with the right to sign an NFL Player Contract with any Club, and any Club is then free to negotiate for and sign a Player Contract with such player, without any Draft Choice Compensation between Clubs or First Refusal Rights of any kind, or any signing period.
(c) For players with respect to whom the drafting Club retains a Right of First Refusal pursuant to this Section 5, during each League Year the player shall be treated as if he were a Restricted Free Agent not subject to Draft Choice Compensation, as described in Article XIX (Veteran Free Agency), Section 2, except as otherwise set forth in this Section 5. For such players subject to a Right of First Refusal, the Club must tender a one year Player Contract with at least the Minimum Active/Inactive List Salary for players with two (2) or more Credited Seasons, as defined in Article XXXVIII (Salaries), within the thirty (30) day period specified in Subsection (a)

Section 6. Return to College: If any college football player who becomes eligible for the Draft prior to exhausting his college football eligibility through participation is drafted by an NFL Club, and returns to college, the drafting Club's exclusive right to negotiate and sign a Player Contract with such player shall continue through the date of the Draft that follows the last season in which the player was eligible to participate in college football, and thereafter the player shall be treated and the Club shall have such exclusive rights as if he were drafted in such Draft by such Club (or assignee Club).

Article XVII, Entering Player Pool ARTICLE XVII ENTERING PLAYER POOL Section 1. Definition: For purposes of this Article XVII of this Agreement, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below: "Entering Player Pool" means the League-wide limit on the total amount of Salary to which all of the NFL Clubs may contract for in signing Drafted Rookies (and certain amounts contracted to be paid to Undrafted Rookies as described below) during each League Year of this Agreement, as set forth below. Salary shall be defined and calculated in the same manner as set (b) forth in Article XXIV (Guaranteed League-wide Salary, Salary Cap & Minimum Team Salary). In the event a Rookie who is subject to the Entering Player Pool signs a Player Contract after the commencement of the regular season, the Club must have Room under its Rookie Allocation for the entire Paragraph 5 amount of the contract. Section 2. Covered League Years: The Entering Player Pool will be in effect in all League Years, except as set forth below. The NFL may remove the Entering Player Pool at its option in any Uncapped Year, by notice to the NFLPA at least 60 days prior to the scheduled date of the Draft that League Year. Further, in any Capped Year, the NFL may remove the Pool, by notice to the NFLPA at least 60 days prior to the scheduled date of the Draft that League Year, but to the extent that any Club spends more than its Rookie Allocation in that League Year, the Club will pay an equivalent number of dollars to its Veteran players pursuant to reasonable allocation instructions by the NFLPA. Section 3. Calculation: The Entering Player Pool shall consist on a League-wide basis of the amount of the Entering Player Pool for the immediately preceding League Year (excluding any formula allotments attributable to any Compensatory Draft Selections), increased by the same percentage as the increase in Projected TR for that League Year over the prior year's TR (as defined in Article XXIV (Guaranteed League-wide Salary, Salary Cap & Minimum Team Salary)), up to a maximum of five percent (5%) per season, but shall not in any event decrease in actual amount from League Year to League Year. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent there are Compensatory Draft Selections as a result of Article XVI (College Draft), Section 2 and/or Article XX (Franchise and Transition Players), Section 15, the Entering Player Pool shall be increased in accordance with Subsection (c) below and as otherwise agreed upon by the NFL and the NFLPA. (b) For each League Year of this Agreement, each Club shall have a Rookie Allocation, which shall be its proportional share of the Entering Player Pool, calculated based on the number, round, and position of the 51

Article XVII, Entering Player Pool
Club's selection choices in the Draft. The Rookie Allocation formula sha	all be agreed upon by the NFL and the NFLPA and shall remain in effect for	or the duration of the Agreement, unless the NFL and the NFLPA otherwis	se agree.
(c) If, pursuant to Article XVI (College Draft), Section 2 and/or Ar	ti-cle XX (Franchise and Transition Players), Section 15, a Club has one	or more Compensatory Draft Selections, an amount shall be added to th	at Club's Rookie Allocation, and to the Entering Player Pool (notwithstanding Subsection (b) above), based upon the amount allotted to selection choi es of that round and position in calculating the Rookie Allocation (the "Fc mula Allotment"). In the event that a Club signs a Player Contract with Drafted Rookie who was drafted in a prior League Year, an addition amount shall be added to that Club's Rookie Allocation, and to the Enter ing Player Pool (notwithstanding Subsection (b) above), equal to the low of the Club's original Formula Allotment for such draft choice or the amount of unused Room under the Club's Rookie Allocation during the	ne League Year in which the player was originally drafted.
(d) Notwithstanding the above, nothing shall prevent the Club fro signing a player for an amount in excess of the player's Formula Allotmer	ıt, if the Club has Room available under its Rookie Allocation.
(e) In the event that the NFL holds a supplemental draft in addition to its annual Draft in advance of the next League Year's Draft, adjustmen shall be made to the Entering Player Pool and Rookie Allocation in a ma	n-ner to be agreed upon by the NFL and the NFLPA.
(f) In any League Year in which one or more expansion Teams ent the League, the amount of the Entering Player Pool shall be increased to a	.C-count for the draft selections of any such expansion Teams.
(g) In the event the NFL holds a supplemental draft in addition its annual College Draft in advance of the following League Year's College Draft, there shall be added to each selecting Club's Rookie Allocation, ar (cumulatively, if more than one selecting Club) to the Entering Player Po for that League Year, an amount equal to the Formula Allotment for the co responding choice(s) in that League Year's College Draft. In the subseque: League Year, after Formula Allotments have been established for each sele tion position in the College Draft, the amount of the Formula Allotment for the selections used in the prior year's supplemental draft shall be d ducted from the Club's Rookie Allocation. See Section 3(e) above. For e ample: If Team A selects a player in a supplemental draft with the fir choice in the third round, Team A's Rookie Allocation for that League Ye shall be increased by an amount equal to the Formula Allotment for the fir choice in the third round of that year's College Draft. An amount equal the Formula Allotment for the first choice in the third round of the pri-League Year's Draft shall be eliminated from the subsequent League Year Entering Player Pool, in that Club's Rookie Allocation, but all other Rook Allocations remain the same.

Section 4. Omegation
Section 4. Operation: (a) No Club may enter into Player Contracts with Drafted Rooki that, standing alone or in the aggregate, provide for Salaries in the fi League Year of such Player contracts that would exceed the Club's Rook Allocation for that year,
(b) For the purposes of this Article XVII, the Salary of any Undra ed Rookie shall count toward the Club's Rookie Allocation only to the ϵ tent that it exceeds the then applicable Minimum Active/Inactive List Sala for that player.
(c) In the event that a Draft selection is assigned to another Club p or to completion of the Draft, the amount of the Formula Allotment such selection shall be assigned to the Club receiving the selection unc the assignment. A Club may not assign the exclusive negotiating rights to Drafted Player to another Club if such New Club does not have Room u der its Rookie Allocation equal to at least the original Formula Allotment the player, unless the player consents to such assignment.
(d)(i) If a Drafted Player is placed on waivers, the player's Formula A lotment remains with the Club that requested waivers on him, and the signee Club must have Room or make Room under its Rookie Allocation make the Required Tender to the player.
(ii) If a Club requests waivers on a Drafted Rookie and that player released via waivers, the requesting Club can sign that player to a Play Contract during that League Year only if the Club has Room under its Room ie Allocation equal to the full Salary contracted for in that League Year.
(e) No Player Contract signed by a Rookie may provide for an annu increase in Salary of more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the contract first League Year Salary, unless such Player Contract provides for Sala which is equal to the then applicable Minimum Salary for each League Ye of the contract. For the purposes of the calculation in this section only, a amount of a signing bonus attributed to the player's Salary shall not counted.
(f) If a Rookie contracts with a Club for the minimum workout pa ments set forth in Article XXXV, for his second or subsequent season, su payments shall not be included for purposes of the 25% Rule for Rooki set forth above. If a Rookie contracts with a Club for a workout payment excess of the minimum, such excess amount shall be included for the pu poses of the 25% Rule for Rookies set forth above. In all cases, a worko payment shall count toward Team Salary and a Team's Rookie Allocation (g) Any amount which a Club may pay to a player to buy out a rig the player has or may have to terminate one or more contract years shall treated as a signing bonus at the time the buyout is exercised by the Clu

Article XX, Franchise and Transition Players ARTICLE XX FRANCHISE AND TRANSITION PLAYERS Section 1. Franchise Player Designations: Except as set forth in Section 10 below, each Club shall be permitted to designate one of its players who would otherwise be an Unrestricted Free Agent as a Franchise Player each season during the term of this Agreement. The player so designated may be one who would otherwise be a Restricted Free Agent. Except as set forth in Section 2(a)(i) below, any Club that designates a Franchise Player shall be the only Club with which such Franchise Player may negotiate or sign a Player Contract, during the period the player is so designated, notwithstanding the number of his Accrued Seasons. The period for Clubs to designate Franchise Players will begin on the twenty-second day preceding the first day of the new League Year and will end at 4:00 p.m. New York time on the eighth day preceding the first day of the new League Year. Section 2. Required Tender for Franchise Players: Except as provided in Subsection (b) below, any Club that designates a Franchise Player shall on the date the designation is made notify the player and the NFLPA which one of the following two (2) potential required tenders the Club has selected: A one year NFL Player Contract for the average of the five (5) largest Prior Year Salaries for players at the position (within the categories set forth in Section 7(a) below) at which the Franchise Player played the most games during the prior League Year, or 120% of his Prior Year Salary. whichever is greater; if the Club extends the tender pursuant to this Subsection (a)(i), the player shall be permitted to negotiate a Player Contract with any Club as if he were a player subject to Section 5 below, except that Draft Choice Compensation of two (2) first round draft selections shall be made with respect to such player in the event he signs with the New Club, and the Signing Period for such player shall be determined under Section 17 below; or A one year NFL Player Contract for (1) the average of the five (5) largest Salaries in Player Contracts for that League Year as of the end of the Restricted Free Agent Signing Period that League Year, as set forth in Article XIX (Veteran Free Agency), Section 2(h), for players at the position (within the categories set forth in Section 7(a) below) at which he played the most games during the prior League Year, or (2) the amount of the required tender under Subsection (a)(i) above, whichever is greater. (b) Any Club that designates a player as a Franchise Player for the third time shall, on the date the third such designation is made, be deemed to have tendered the player a one-year NFL Player Contract for the greater of: (1) the average of the five (5) largest Prior Year Salaries for players at the position (within the categories set forth in Section 7(a) below) with the highest such average; (2) 120% of the average of the five (5) largest Prior 68

WAIVER SYSTEM
Section 1. Release:
(a) Whenever a player who has finished the season in which h fourth year of credited service has been earned under the Bert Bell/Pe Rozelle Plan is placed on waivers between February 1 and the trading dea line, his contract will be considered terminated and the player will be conpletely free at any time thereafter to negotiate and sign a Player Contra with any Club, and any Club shall be completely free to negotiate and significant and signific a Player Contract with such player, without penalty or restriction, inclu ing, but not limited to, Draft Choice Compensation between Clubs or Fil Refusal Rights of any kind, or any signing period. If the waivers occur aft that time, the player's Player Contract will be subject to the waiver syste and may be awarded to a claiming Club. However, if such player is claimed and awarded, he shall have the option to declare himself an Unrestricted.
Free Agent at the end of the League Year in question if he has a no-trace clause in his Player Contract. If such player does not have a no-trade clau and the Player Contract being awarded through waivers covers more that one additional season, the player shall have the right to declare himself Unrestricted Free Agent as set forth above at the end of the League Year for lowing the League Year in which he is waived and awarded.
(b) Whenever a player who has finished less than the season which his fourth year of credited service has been earned under the Be Bell/Pete Rozelle Plan is placed on waivers, the player's Player Contract w be subject to the waiver system and may be awarded to a claiming Club.
Section 2. Contact: Coaches or any other persons connected with anoth NFL Club are prohibited from contacting any player placed on waivers u til such time as the player is released by the waiving Club.
Section 3. Ineligibility: Any NFL player who is declared ineligible to cor pete in a pre-season, regular season or postseason game because of a bread by any NFL Club by whom he is employed of waiver procedures and reg lations, or any other provision of the NFL Constitution and Bylaws, will paid the salary or other compensation which he would have received if had not been declared ineligible, which, in any event, will be a minimu of one week's salary and, when applicable, expense payments.
Section 4. Notice of Termination: The Notice of Termination form a tached hereto as Appendix G will be used by all Clubs. If possible, the N tice of Termination will be personally delivered to the player prior to his d parture from the team. If the Notice of Termination has not been personal ly delivered to the player prior to his departure from the team, the Noti
, and the second party of prior to me departure from the team, the front form the NFLPA of player personnel transactions communicated in the Personnel Notice between the NFL and its member Clubs concerning the termination or trading of players including awards on waivers, termination through waivers, confirmation of trades or any change in the status of players (e.g., placed on Reserve Injured, etc.). The NFL will make best efforts to communicate the information referred to in this Article to the NFLPA on the same day, but in no event later than noon on the next day. A player who is terminated shall, upon request at or around the time of termination, be informed by the terminating Club of any claims made upon him by NFL Clubs during that League Year. The same information will be provided to the NFLPA if requested.

 Section 6. Rosters: The NFLMC shall supply the NFLPA with an opening day and final roster for each Club. Rosters shall consist of the following categories of players: Active; Inactive; Reserve Injured; Reserve Physically Unable to Perform; Exempt Commissioner Permission; Non Football

Article XXIV, Guaranteed League-Wide Salary, Salary Cap, & Minimum Team Salary

Section 1. Definitions: For purposes of this Article, and anywhere else specifically stated in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

(a) Total Revenues.

- (i) "Total Revenues" ("TR") means the aggregate revenues received or to be received on an accrual basis, for or with respect to a League Year during the term of this Agreement, by the NFL and all NFL Teams (and their designees), from all sources, whether known or unknown, derived from, relating to or arising out of the performance of players in NFL football games, with only the specific exceptions set forth below. The NFL and each NFL Team shall in good faith act and use their best efforts, consistent with sound business judgment, so as to maximize Total Revenues for each playing season during the term of this Agreement. Total Revenues shall include, without limitation:
- (1) Regular season, pre-season, and postseason gate receipts (net of (A) admission taxes, (B) taxes on tickets regularly paid to governmental authorities by Clubs or Club Affiliates, provided such taxes are deducted for purposes of calculating gate receipts subject to revenue sharing and (C) surcharges paid to stadium or municipal authorities which are deducted for purposes of calculating gate receipts subject to revenue sharing), including ticket revenue from "luxury boxes," suites, and premium seating subject to gate receipt sharing among NFL Teams (except as otherwise expressly agreed to by the parties, the aggregate amount of ticket revenue allocated to luxury boxes, suites and premium seating to be included in TR is the face value of the ticket, or any additional amounts which are subject to gate receipt sharing among NFL Clubs);
- (2) Proceeds including Copyright Royalty Tribunal and extended market payments from the sale, license or other conveyance of the right to broadcast or exhibit NFL pre-season, regular season and playoff games on radio and television including, without limitation, network, local, cable, pay television, satellite encryption, international broadcasts, delayed broadcasts (which shall not include any broadcast of an NFL pre-season, regular season or playoff game occurring more than 72 hours after the live exhibition of the game, unless the broadcast is the first broadcast in the market), and all other means of distribution, net of any reasonable and customary NFL (or Club, as the case may be) expenses related to the project;
- (3) Revenues derived from concessions, parking, local advertising and promotion, signage, magazine advertising, local sponsorship agreements, stadium clubs, luxury box income other than that described in Section 1(a)(i)(1) above (with "Super suites" (i.e., suites substantially larger in size than the largest suite regularly available for sale in the stadium) to have

(v) [Omitted]
(vi) It is acknowledged by the parties hereto that for purposes	of determining Total Revenues:	01 010
(1) NFL Teams may, during the term of this Agreement, be o	wned and controlled by persons or entities that will receive revenues for a of rights encompassing both (a) rights from the NFL Team so own controlled (the revenue from which is includable in Total Revenues) at other rights owned or controlled by such persons or entities (the refrom such other rights not being includable in Total Revenues), and the such circumstances, allocations would therefore have to be made a the rights and revenues described in this Section 1(a); and
(2) NFL Teams may, during the term of this Agreement, receiv	e rev enue for the grant of rights to third parties which are owned or cont by the persons or entities owning or controlling such NFL Teams inafter "Related Entities"); and
(3) The reasonableness and includability in TR of such alloca	ations and transactions between Related Entities shall be determined by th tionally recognized accounting firm jointly retained by the parties, cordance with the procedures described in Section 10 below.
(vii) [Omitted]
(viii) For the purposes of any amounts to be calculated or used	l pursuant to this Agreement with respect to TR, Benefits, Player Costs, Pr ed TR, Projected Benefits, Required Tenders, Qualifying Offers, Mini	.mum Salaries, Minimum Active/Inactive List Salaries, Team Salary, or Salary,	such amounts shall be rounded to the nearest $1,000.
(ix) [Omitted]
(x)(1) Without limiting the foregoing, except as specified in Su	bsec-tions (x)(2) through (x)(7) below, TR shall include all revenues from sonal Seat Licenses ("PSLs") received by, or received by a third part	y and used, directly or indirectly, for the benefit of the NFL or any Team or Affiliate, without any deduction for taxes or other expenses (but subj	ect to the provisions of Appendix H-3, Section C, with respect to PSL refu	ınds) Such revenues shall be allocated in equal portions, commencing i League Year in which they are received, over the remaining life of the	PSL subject to a maximum allocation period of fifteen (15) years; prov	rided however, that interest from the League Year the revenues are received	unti the League Years the revenues are allocated into TR shall be imputed

Article XXIV, Guaranteed League-Wide Salary, Salary Cap, & Minimum Jeam Salary revenues are received. Each equal portion of PSL revenues allocated into TR, plus an equal portion of the imputed interest specified above, shall be referred to as the "Maximum Annual Allocation Amount." (x)(2) To the extent that PSL revenues are used to pay for the construction of a new stadium or for stadium renovation(s) that increase TR (regardless of whether the stadium is owned by a public authority or a private entity (including, but not limited to, the NFL, any Team or any Team Affiliate)), and if such PSL revenues have received a waiver of any applicable League requirement of sharing of "gross receipts," then such PSL revenues will not be included in a particular League Year in TR. Notwithstanding the foregoing, except where, subsequent to the 2005 League Year, the NFLPA has approved the exclusion of PSL revenues from TR in circumstances where the stadium is also supported by a Stadium Credit described in Section 4(e) below, the maximum exclusion of PSL revenues each League Year from TR shall be equal to any increase in TR that directly results from such stadium construction or renovation as calculated in Subsections (x)(3) through (x)(7) below. (x)(3) Until the first full League Year the new stadium or the renovated facilities are put into service, the amount of PSL revenues excluded each League Year shall be equal to the Maximum Annual Allocation Amount. If the actual increase in TR directly resulting from such stadium construction or renovations during the first full League Year in which such stadium or renovations are put into service (the "First Year PSL Increases") is less than any Maximum Annual Allocation Amount for that League Year or any prior League Year (the "PSL Difference"), then the aggregate PSL Difference for every such League Year (assuming for purposes of calculating such PSL Difference, that the First Year PSL Increase had been received in each such League Year) shall be credited to TR in the immediately following League (x)(4) Commencing with the first full League Year the new stadium or the renovated facilities are put into service, the jointly retained Accountants (set forth in Article XXIV, Section 10(a) below) shall determine the increase in TR that directly results each League Year from a stadium construction or renovation funded, in whole or in part, by PSL revenues. In the case of a new stadium, such calculation shall be made by comparing the TR directly generated by the old stadium during the last full League Year in which the old stadium was in service with the TR directly generated by the new stadium during the League Year in question. In the case of stadium renovations, such calculation shall be made by comparing the TR directly generated by those specific stadium facilities which are renovated, with the TR directly generated by those facilities prior to their renovation (where new facilities, such as completely new luxury suites or premium seats, are constructed, the TR directly generated by the facilities prior to their renovation would equal either zero, or the amount of TR directly generated by any facilities that were replaced by the renovation). If the NFL and the NFLPA 88

Article XXIV, Guaranteed League-Wide Salary, Salary Cap, & Minimum Team S	salary agree that a renovation is substantial enough to increase revenues thro	ughout the stadium (e.g., significant renovations throughout the stad which enable the Club to attract more fans and/or increase ticket pi then the Accountants shall consider any increase in TR throughout the dium (e.g., increased concession, parking or novelty revenues) as beir rectly generated by the renovation.	15 W (x)(5) If the calculations set forth in $(x)(4)$ above result in an exch	ıci/m of PSL revenues from TR that is less than the Maximum Annual Alloc Amount, the Accountants shall report the amount not excluded from 7 a "Carryover PSL Credit." Such Carryover PSL Credits, if any, shall be ducted from a Team's TR in the first future League Year in which amount of TR directly generated by the new stadium or the renovate cilities exceeds the Maximum Annual Allocation Amount (the "PSI cess"), but only up to the amount of the PSL Excess. Each dollar of C over PSL Credit may be deducted from a Team's TR only once, and or	ily to the extent of any PSL Excess existing at the time of such deduction.
(x)(6) Any applicable deduction from TR for any expenses (i.e., i est, rent, taxes or depreciation) that are attributable to premium sea luxury suites included in any new stadium or stadium renovation pr funded, in whole or in part, by PSL revenues excluded from TR pursua Subsection (x)(2) above shall be reduced, in any League Year, by an am equal to the result obtained by multiplying (a) the gross deduction for	such expenses that would otherwise be available under this Agreement i	n respect of such League Year, by (b) a fraction, the numerator of which is	is (1) the total PSL revenues described in the first sentence of Subsection (2 and the denominator of which is (2) the total costs for construction of new stadium or renovations.
(x)(7) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "PSL" shall include	e any and all instruments of any nature, whether of temporary or permanen ration, that give the purchaser the right to acquire or retain tickets to games and shall include, without limitation, seat options; seat bonds suite bonds or long-term conveyances of suite occupancy rights where ceeds are segregated and unequivocally dedicated to stadium constru (e.g., Founders' Suite Programs) that directly or indirectly give purch the right to acquire NFL tickets, provided that the NFLPA shall hav unconditional right to review and determine whether any specific in ments relating to suites qualify as PSLs. PSL revenues shall also include enues from any other device (e.g., periodic payments such as surcha loge maintenance fees, etc.) that the NFL and the NFLPA agree consti	tutes a PSL.
(x) (8) Notwithstanding the above or anything else in this Agreen any exclusions of PSL revenue from TR in respect of PSLs first sold after 2005 League Year shall be subject to approval by the NFLPA on a cas	e-by-case basis.
(xi)(1) Notwithstanding Section 1(a)(i)-(iv) above, premium seat	rev-

The maximum exclusion of premium seat revenue from TR each League Year shall be equal to any increase in TR that directly results from such stadium construction or renovation as calculated in Subsections (xi)(2) through (xi)(6) below. (xi)(2) Until the first full League Year the new stadium or the renovated facilities are put into service, the amount of premium seat revenues excluded each League Year shall be equal to the amount that receives a waiver of any League requirement of sharing of gross receipts (the "Non-Shared Amount"). If the actual increase in TR during the first full League Year in which the new stadium or the renovated facilities are put into service (the "First Year Premium Seat Increase") is less than any Non-Shared Amount for that League Year or any prior League Year (the "Premium Seat Difference"), then the aggregate Premium Seat Difference for every such League Year (assuming for purposes of calculating such Premium Seat Difference that the First Year Premium Seat Increase had been received in each such League Year) shall be credited to TR in the immediately following League (xi)(3) Commencing with the first full League Year the new stadium or the renovated facilities are put into service, the jointly retained Accountants (set forth in Article XXIV, Section 10(a) below) shall determine the increase in TR that directly results each League Year from the stadium construction or renovation funded, in whole or in part, with premium seat revenues. In the case of a new stadium, such calculation shall be made by comparing the TR directly generated by the old stadium during the last full League Year in which the old stadium was in service with the TR directly generated by the new stadium during the League Year in question. In the case of stadium renovations, such calculation shall be made by comparing the TR directly generated by those specific stadium facilities which are renovated, with the TR directly generated by those facilities prior to their renovation (where new facilities, such as completely new luxury suites or premium seats, are constructed, the TR directly generated by the facilities prior to their renovation would equal either zero, or the amount of TR directly generated by any facilities that were replaced by the renovation). but not including Benefits. Salary with respect to any period shall in-all Salary actually payable with respect to such period under the term Player Contract and all Salary attributable to such period under the	terms of this Agreement.
(ii) A player's Salary shall also include any and all consideration ceived by the player or his Player Affiliate, even if such consideration tensibly paid to the player for services other than football playing ser if the NFL can demonstrate before the Impartial Arbitrator that the co	nsid-eration paid to the player or Player Affiliate for such nonfootball ser	vices does not represent a reasonable approximation of the fair market val	ue of such services as performed by such player. The Impartial Arbitrator termination may take into account, among other things: (1) any actua lar amounts the player or Player Affiliate received for similar nonfo playing services from an independent third party; and (2) the percenta total compensation for nonfootball services received from third partie sus the Team or Team Affiliate.	2 vc1-
(iii) For purposes of this Article, Salary shall be computed pur	suant to the additional rules below.

Notwithstanding the immediately preceding sentence, there will be Guaranteed League-wide Salary, Salary Cap, or Minimum Team Sala	ı ry in the Final League Year,
(b) If the total Player Costs of the NFL Teams during any League	e Year in which the Salary Cap is in effect falls below 46.868% of actual Tota League-wide Salary makeup payments pursuant to Section 3 below), there shall be no Salary Cap for the next League Year or any success League Year unless and until the Salary Cap again becomes effective cordance with Section 2(a) above.	III aca Salary Cap is in effect, there shall be a Guaranteed League-wide Sala 50% of Total Revenues. In the event that the Player Costs for all NFL T during any League Year in which a Salary Cap is in effect are less than of actual TR for such season, then, on or before April 15 of the next Le Year, the NFL shall pay an amount equal to such deficiency directly to	players who played on NFL Teams during such season pursuant to the reasonable allocation instructions of the NFLPA.

Section 4. Salary Cap Amounts:
(a) Subject to the adjustments and credits set forth below, the amount of the Salary Cap for each NFL Team in years that it is in effect shall be (1) in the 2006 League Year, $102 million, (2) in the 2007 League Year, $109 million; (3) in the 2008 League Year, 57.5% of Projected Total Revenues, less League-wide Projected Benefits, divided by the number of Teams playing in the NFL during such year; (4) in the 2009 League Year, 57.5% of Projected Total Revenues, less League-wide Projected Benefits, divided by the number of Teams playing in the NFL during such year; (5) in the 2010 League Year, 58% of Projected Total Revenues, less League-wide Projected Benefits, divided by the number of Teams playing in the NFL during such year; and (6) in the 2011 League Year, 58% of Projected Total Revenues, less League-wide Projected Benefits, divided by the number of Teams playing in the NFL during such year. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence or anything else in this Agreement, there shall be no Salary Cap in the Final League Year.
(b)(i) In the event that the Salary Cap amount for the 2006 League Year or the 2007 League Year differs from 57% of Total Revenues, less League-wide Benefits, divided by the number of Teams playing in the NFL during such year, the difference for the 2006 League Year shall be credited or adjusted, as the case may be, in the calculation of the Salary Cap for the 2008 League Year, and the difference for the 2007 League Year shall be credited or adjusted, as the case may be, in the calculation of the Salary Cap for the 2009 League Year.
(ii) Upon receipt of the information set forth in Section 10(a)(i)(B) below, at the end of the League Year, the parties shall agree upon the amount of the Salary Cap, subject to the adjustments and credits set forth below, for each NFL Team for the Capped League Year, if any, following the next League Year. For example, the parties shall agree at the end of the 2006 League Year on the Salary Cap for the 2008 League Year.
(iii) Wherever the parties have agreed that a difference in the Salary Cap is to be carried over into a future League Year (e.g., Article XXIV, Section 10(a)(ii)), if the number of Clubs in the NFL changes from the League Year in which the Salary Cap difference originated to the League Year in which it will be applied, the amount of the difference will be adjusted to reflect the different number of Clubs in the NFL.
(c) The actual dollar amount of the Salary Cap shall not be less than the actual dollar amount of any Salary Cap in effect during the preceding League Year, provided, however, that at no time shall the Projected Benefits, plus the amount of the Salary Cap multiplied by the number of Teams in the NFL, exceed 61.68% of Projected TR. See Appendix O.

2007 League Year, 57.5% of TR in the 2008 and 2009 League Years, 58% of TR in the 2010 and 2011 League Years). If a Stadium Credit gre than 1.8% of TR in a League Year results from the sum of (a) Project C

NFLPA after the 2005 League Year, (b) combined Project Credits in res of previously approved G-3 stadium projects, (c) any banked credits may be applied in that League Year as provided below, and (d) the Section 1997.
Credit, then the excess over 1.8% of TR, up to a maximum of an addit al one-half of one percent (0.5%) of TR (i.e., up to a maximum of 2.3 TR), will be deducted from the calculation of the Salary Cap.
(ii) For purposes of calculating the Stadium Credit:
(a) the Annual League-wide security cost credit (the "Security C	Credit") shall be the greater of (1) $8 million increased at the rate of five per (5%) each League Year subsequent to the 2006 League Year provided if as a result of the increase, the Stadium Credit exceeds 1.8% of TR, the

	2) If the NFL imposes any incremental repayment requirement or reca	pture mechanism in respect of G-3, PSL, or premium seat support that oplicable when recipient franchises are sold, the NFLMC and the PA will negotiate in good faith an equitable adjustment mechanism in ect of payments made to the NFL in connection with the sale of such payment of Project Credits on a basis comparable in nature, as well as are unable to agree, the Special Master shall determine the amount or

	vi) Project Credits in respect of G-3 funding first advanced after the 5 League Year will begin to count towards the Stadium Credit in the ue Year prior to the scheduled opening of the new stadium.
_	vii) There will be no limit on the Project Credit for any individual proj	ect approved and first funded after the 2005 League Year, but the qual-g private contributions to the Project Credit, and the resulting Annual ortization Amount, in respect of each project will be subject to NFLPA oval prior to the initial NFL support funding for such project. Also, in nerance (and not in limitation) of Section 1(a)(x)(8) above, any pro-ll for exclusion of PSL or premium seat revenue from TR in respect of PSL	s or premium seats to be sold in connection with any stadium receiv-
	G-3 support (and seeking Project Credits in respect of such support) shal	be subject to approval by the NFLPA on a case-by-case basis, and all such	PSL or premium seat revenue shall be included in TR in the absence viii) The definition of stadium construction costs used by the NFL as of t	ne end of the 2005 League Year (which has been provided to the PA) to determine the amount of G-3 funds to be advanced to Clubs will	be used to calculate the Stadium Credit, except that the capitalized valing for stadium construction pursuant to such documents; (3) the lan lord's bond funding is used for costs that are "qualifying project costs" u der the G-3 program; and (4) the bond funding is greater than the amou of the rent deducted. The NFLPA has the right to review stadium proje spending independently to verify that the G-3 stadium construction co definition has been properly applied, with any disputes subject to review	ew by the Special Master pursuant to Article XXVI.	TID

(ix) Total TR must increase as a result of each G-3 project, after all	IR deductions resulting from the project are counted.	1
(x) Notwithstanding anything else in this Agreement, if a Cl and/or Club owner owns a stadium constructed with G-3 funding, th revenues derived from non-football events/operations at the stadium a first deemed to be applied to cover non-football operating costs, then cover general stadium overhead and operating costs (excluding NFL eve game day costs). The amount of any excess non-football event revenues maining after such subtractions will be applied to reduce the outstandi "private contribution" towards the stadium project, thus producing a co responding 50% reduction in the Salary Cap deduction in respect of the 3 Project. (Example: Team-owned stadium has $10 million in gross concerns the stadium has $10 million in gross con income, direct concert costs of $2 million, and stadium overhead of $4 m lion. $4 million in net concert income is applied to reduce the outstandi "private contribution" in respect of the stadium project, which will res in a lower Salary Cap deduction amount.) If the amount of the "private co tribution" has been fully amortized, revenues from non-football events/c	perations for such stadium will not constitute Total Revenues.
(xi) PSL/premium seat deductions from TR are not available for a G-3 stadium project approved and first funded before the 2006 Leag Year. As to any G-3 stadium project (including projects approved and fi funded before the 2006 League Year), (a) no deductions from TR are available for a serious right to a serious (a) the serious right to a serious right right to a serious right able for naming rights revenues (to the extent received by or on behalf o Club or Club Affiliate) that are used for the construction or renovation such stadiums, but such revenues (if so used) shall constitute private co tributions to the project for purposes of calculating the private contributions thereto (which will give rise to Project Credits to the extent such credits a approved by the NFLPA); and (b) there shall be no deduction in any Leag Year through the 2008 League Year for depreciation as to luxury boxes any stadium for which a Stadium Credit is given (the parties reserve th respective rights and positions with respect to depreciation for luxury be es thereafter). As to any G-3 stadium project approved and first funded ter the 2006 League Year, all deductions from Total Revenues or otherw in the calculation of the Salary Cap with respect to such stadium will subject to approval by the NFLPA, in order for the project to qualify unc this Subsection (e).	1er

Section 5. Minimum Team Salary: (a) For the 2006 League Year, there shall be a guaranteed Minimum Ieam Salary of 84% of the Salary Cap. For each subsequent Capped Year, the percentage set forth in the prior sentence shall increase 1.2%, but in no event shall the percentage be greater than 90%. For example, in the 2008 League Year, there shall be a guaranteed Minimum Team Salary of 86.4% of he Salary Cap. Each Team shall be required to have a Team Salary of at least the Minimum Team Salary at the end of each Capped Year. There shall be no Minimum Team Salary in the Final League Year.
(b) Nothing contained herein shall preclude a Team from having a Team Salary in excess of the Minimum Team Salary, provided it does not exceed the Salary Cap.
(c) Any shortfall in the Minimum Team Salary at the end of a League Year shall be paid, on or before April 15 of the next League Year, by the Teams having such shortfall, directly to the players who were on such Teams' roster at any time during the season, pursuant to reasonable allocaion instructions of the NFLPA.
(d) If the NFL agrees, or a judgment or award is entered by the Special Master, that a Team has failed by the end of the then current League Year to make the payments required to satisfy a Team's obligations to pay the Minimum Team Salary required by this Agreement, then, in the event the Ieam fails promptly to comply with such agreement, judgment or award, he NFL shall make such payment on behalf of that Team (such funds to be paid as salary directly to the players on such Team at the direction of and oursuant to the reasonable allocation instructions of the NFLPA).
Section 6. Computation of Team Salary: During any League Year in which the Salary Cap is in effect, all of the following amounts shall be included: every day in determining a Team's Team Salary;
(a) Player Contracts. Subject to the rules below in Section 7 of this Article, all amounts the Team has paid or is obligated to pay as set forth in all Player Contracts of current and former players covering a particular eague Year, including exercised, options, shall be included in Team Salary.
(b) Tenders.
(i) Drafted Rookies' Salaries shall be tendered automatically at the Rookie Minimum Active List Salary as of the day of the Draft and shall be ncluded in Team Salary until (1) the player is signed, (2) the Team's rights are relinquished through waivers, or (3) the Tuesday following the tenth week of the regular season (if the player is unsigned).
(ii) For players with less than three (3) Accrued Seasons whose contracts have expired, the Minimum Active List Salary will be included in Ieam Salary when tendered until the player is signed, or the Team's rights are relinquished.
(iii) For players who are Restricted Free Agents, the Qualifying Offer will be included in Team Salary when tendered until the player is signed, the Qualifying Offer is withdrawn, or a "June 1 tender" (which may be made on or before June 1) is made. If the player is unsigned and the Team makes a June 1 tender or June 15 tender, such tender will be included until the player is signed, the Team's rights are relinquished, or the Tuesday following the tenth week of the regular season (if the player is unsigned). (iv) For players who are Unrestricted Free Agents, the June 1 tender, if made, will be included in Team Salary as of July 15 and thereafter until the player is signed, the tender is withdrawn, the Team's rights are relinquished or extinguished, or the Tuesday following the tenth week of the regular season (if the player is unsigned). (v) For Transition Players and Franchise Players, the tender will be included in Team Salary when made until the player is signed, the tender is withdrawn, the Team's rights are relinquished, or the Tuesday following the tenth game of the regular season (if the player is unsigned). (vi) All Offer Sheets will be included in Team Salary when tendered until the player is signed to a Player Contract by any NFL Team, or the Offer Sheet is withdrawn. (c) Practice Squad Contracts. Any Practice Squad contract Salaries shall be included in Team Salary except to the extent otherwise provided in Article XXXIV, Section 5. (d) Termination Pay. Any type of Termination Pay liability will be included in Team Salary at the time the player is released, except to the extent the Team is relieved of any such liability. (e) Grievances. When a player salary grievance is filed against a Team, 50% of the amount claimed (or, for a player whose contract qualifies under Article XXXVIII-A, 50% of the player's Salary Cap count, prorated to reflect the number of weeks remaining in the regular season) will be counted in Team Salary until the grievance is resolved or until the end of the League Year, whichever comes first; at the end of the League Year, if any grievance amounts paid by the Team are more than the original 50% attributions and put made on or before June 1) is made. If the player is unsigned and the Team makes a June 1 tender or June 15 tender, such tender will be included until the player is signed, the Team's rights are relinquished, or the Tuesday following the tenth week of the regular season (if the player is unsigned). (iv) For players who are Unrestricted Free Agents, the June 1 tender, if made, will be included in Team Salary as of July 15 and thereafter until the player is signed, the tender is withdrawn, the Team's rights are relinquished or extinguished, or the Tuesday following the tenth week of the regular season (if the player is unsigned). (v) For Transition Players and Franchise Players, the tender will be included in Team Salary when made until the player is signed, the tender is withdrawn, the Team's rights are relinquished, or the Tuesday following the tenth game of the regular season (if the player is unsigned). (vi) All Offer Sheets will be included in Team Salary when tendered until the player is signed to a Player Contract by any NFL Team, or the Offer Sheet is withdrawn. (c) Practice Squad Contracts. Any Practice Squad contract Salaries shall be included in Team Salary except to the extent otherwise provided in Article XXXIV, Section 5. (d) Termination Pay. Any type of Termination Pay liability will be included in Team Salary at the time the player is released, except to the extent the Team is relieved of any such liability. (e) Grievances. Team finishes the season at the Salary Cap or below the Salary Cap by less than the amount of the unawarded attributions, the difference will be added to the Team's Salary Cap for the following League Year. If an award or settlement is made for a grievance in a League Year after the grievance was filed, and the grievance amount paid is more than the original 50% attribution, the excess shall be included in Team Salary when paid; if the grievance amount is less than the original 50% attribution, the difference shall be deducted from Team Salary when the award is made.

(f) Expansion Bonuses. Except as set forth in Article XXXI (Expansion), any expansion bonuses paid to players shall be included in Team

Section 7. Valuation of Player Contracts: Notwithstanding any provision in a Player Contract to the contrary or when such payments are actually made, the following rules shall apply in determining the amount of a player's Salary that is to be included in Team Salary in a particular League Year for purposes of the Salary Cap:
(a) Paragraph 5.
(i) The highest applicable Salary set forth in Paragraph 5 of the NFL Player Contract shall be included in Team Salary in the year earned, except that, between March 1 and the first day of the regular playing season, only the following amounts from Paragraph 5 shall be included for players whose Player Contracts are not among the Team's 51 highest valued Player Contracts, tenders and Offer Sheets (as determined under this Section 7):
(1) Any amount that exceeds the Minimum Active/Inactive List Salary for Undrafted Rookie Free Agents; and (2) Any amount that exceeds twice the applicable Minimum Active/Inactive List Salary for all other players.
(ii) Deferred Salary. Any Paragraph 5 Salary to be earned in a particular year but not to be paid until after the next League Year shall be considered "Deferred Salary" and will be included in Team Salary during the League Year earned at its present value based on the one-year Treasury Note rate published in The Wall Street Journal on February 1 in the year earned.
Salary to be paid any time before the end of the League Year after it is earned shall not be considered Deferred Salary and will be included fully in the Ieam's Salary during the year earned.
(b) Signing Bonuses.
(i) Proration . The total amount of any signing bonus shall be prorated over the term of the Player Contract (on a straight-line basis, unless subject to acceleration or some other treatment as provided in this Agreement), with a maximum proration of six years, in determining Team and Player Salary, except that:
(1) Maximum proration shall be five (5) years (a) for contracts entered into during the period after the last regular season game of the 2005 League Year through the last regular season game of the 2006 League Year and (b) for contracts entered into during the period after the last regular season game of the League Year preceding the Final Capped Year through the end of the Final Capped Year. For purposes of this Subsection 7(b)(i)(1) only, a renegotiation or extension of a Player Contract shall be treated as a new Player Contract.
(2) Any contract year in which the player has the right to terminate based upon events within his sole control shall not be counted as a contract year for purposes of proration. In the event the NFL and the NFLPA cannot agree upon whether an option is within the player's sole control,

 such issue shall be resolved by the Impartial Arbitrator.
 (3) With respect to the proration of signing bonuses for Player Contracts entered into by Rookie players in which the player has the right to terminate based solely upon reporting, making the roster and/or playtime, such conduct shall automatically be deemed "within his sole control" unless the exercise of the right to terminate is also conditioned upon the following playtime requirements: (1) for players drafted in the first round, at least 35% of the plays if the triggering condition occurs in the first year of the Player Contract, and at least 45% of the plays if in any subsequent year; (2) for all other Rookie players, at least 15% of the plays if the condition occurs in the first year of the Player Contract, and at least 30% of the plays if in any subsequent year. The playtime requirements set forth above do not affect the signing bonus allocation for any contract entered into by players other than Rookies.

sum of the player's Paragraph 5 Salary, roster bonuses that are based upon the player making any of the Club's roster categories without limitation, are fewer than three (3) remaining Capped Years, during the first three (3) years of the Contract) is in the aggregate less than (ii) the portion of the Contract's signing bonus that would be allocated to those League Years if the signing bonus were prorated equally over the term of the Contract, then: the difference between the amounts calculated pursuant to (ii) and (i) of this sentence, up to 50% of the portion of the signing bonus that would otherwise be allocated to the Uncapped Years (the "Difference"), shall be deducted in equal portions from those Uncapped Years and reallocated in equal portions over the Capped Years of the Contract (or, if there are fewer than three (3) Capped Years within the term of the Contract, over the first three (3) years of the Contract). For purposes of this Subsection on-assignment of such contract to another NFL Team, such increase shall be included in the player's Salary upon such assignment and be attributable to the Team paying the bonus.

(8) Any signing bonus given in connection with a contract extension entered into before the expiration of the player's existing contract will be prorated over the remaining years of the unexpired contract together with its extension. The player shall receive such a signing bonus at the time that the extension is executed, unless the player expressly agrees in the contract to defer payment of the extension bonus, in which case only the present a preexisting contract after the start of the regular season in which	ı they may be earned automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned" d	luring that season.

that is based upon special team performance automatically will be "likely to be earned" unless the player played in at least 50% of	his team's special team plays in the previous season.
(xv) Any incentive bonus based on the team's performance ically will be deemed "likely to be eamed" if it sets a minimum le tistical performance that is equal to or lower than that achieved by finishing fifth from the bottom in the League in the applicable cat ing the previous season. For example, an incentive bonus based winning at least a specified number of games will be evaluated mining whether this number of wins was equal to or lower achieved by the team that was fifth from the bottom of the Leag during the previous season. Conversely, any incentive bonus base the bottom of the League or third from the bottom of the Confe

Article XXIV, Guaranteed League-Wide Salary, Salary Cap, & Minimum Jeam Salary a team finishing 14th in its Conference will be deemed "likely to be earned" in a Conference consisting of 16 teams. Conversely, any incentive bonus that is based upon the team achieving a particular ranking in its performance relative either to other teams in the League, or to other teams in its Conference, automatically will be deemed "not likely to be earned" if it sets a ranking level equal to or higher than fifth from the top of the League or third from the top of the Conference, respectively. (xvii) Any incentive bonus based on the team's ranking in its Division automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned." (xviii) In any Player Contract signed by a Rookie, if more than three (3) different team performance categories are included as incentives, all but the three (3) incentives with the lowest dollar value automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned." For Player Contracts signed by Rookies selected in rounds one and two of the NFL draft, any team performance bonus automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned" unless coupled with a playtime requirement of at least 35% of the plays for any team incentives that apply in the first year of any Rookie contract, and at least 45% of the plays for any team incentives that apply in any subsequent year of such a contract. For Player Contracts signed by all other Rookies, a team performance bonus automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned" unless coupled with a playtime requirement of at least 15% of the plays for any team incentives that apply in the first year of any Rookie contract, and at least 30% of the plays for any team incentives that apply in any subsequent year of such a contract. The provisions of this paragraph supplement and do not override Subsection (ix)(2)(B) above. The calculation of these playtime requirements shall exclude special teams plays. (xix) In any Player Contract signed by a player other than a Rookie, if more than three (3) different team performance categories are included as incentives, covering the Final Capped Year or thereafter, all but the three (3) incentives with the lowest dollar value automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned." In addition, any team performance bonus for a player other than a Rookie covering the Final Capped Year or thereafter automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned" unless coupled with a playtime requirement equal to or greater than the player's actual playtime during the year prior to the execution of the new Player Contract. If the latter requirement is satisfied, a determination of whether the incentive is "likely to be earned" will be made pursuant to Article XXIV, Section 7(c)(i). The calculation of these playtime requirements shall exclude special teams plays. (xx) Any incentive bonus that is stated in terms of a per play or per game occurrence automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned" to the extent the specified performance was achieved by the player (if an individual incentive) or by the team (if a team incentive) in the previous year. For Rookies, it will be based on 75% of the team leader on the Rookie's team in the specified performance category in the previous year. If not initially counted as "likely to be earned," such incentives shall be counted imme-128

	(xxi) Any incentive bonus to a kicker or punter for leading his team in a	ny kicking or punting category automatically will be deemed "likely to be arned." In a Player Contract signed by a Rookie quarterback who was rafted in the first round, any incentive bonus for leading his team in any uarterback category in his third NFL season or thereafter automatically W	rill be deemed "likely to be earned." In a Player Contract signed by a Rook-iε	running back who was drafted in the first round, any incentive bonus for le	eading his team in any running back category automatically will be eemed "likely to be earned." The provisions of this paragraph shall apply otwithstanding Subsections (ix)(1) and (ix)(2)(A) above.
	(xxii) Any portion of an incentive bonus that is earned, but which had ot been deemed likely to be earned at 100 percent of its value, will be eemed earned at the end of the season and not immediately upon attainnent of the required performance level, except: (1) as provided in Subsec-on (xx) above in regards to per play or per game occurrences; (2) if the inentive bonus is actually paid before the end of the season, in which case will count when paid; (3) if a player leaves the team's roster prior to the nd of the season and the conditions of the incentive clause are satisfied rior to leaving, in which case the entire value of the earned bonus will ount immediately; or (4) if the contract is renegotiated and the incentive n	as been earned prior to such renegotiation.
٦	(xxiii) Any incentive bonus which a player and a Club agree to that: (i) epends upon performance in any category not identified in Exhibit A or xhibit B; and (ii) is stated in terms of per play, per event or per game, or or leading or any ranking on the Club in any such category; shall be pro-ibited.
	(xxiv) Any roster bonus which is deemed not "likely to be earned"
ь	ased upon the player's performance during the prior year shall immeditely be included in Team Salary when earned. Pre-season roster bonuses re automatically deemed "likely to be earned." (xxv) Any incentive bonus (or portion thereof) that is earned during th	ne Final Capped Year, but which had not been deemed likely to be earned a	t 100 percent of its value during that League Year, will be deemed earned nd counted against the Salary Cap immediately upon attainment of the reuired performance level. Conversely, any incentive bonus (or portion nereof) that had been deemed likely to be eamed during the Final Capped ear will be immediately credited toward the Salary Cap if the required perormance level should, during the course of the Final Capped Year, become ir	npossible for the player to attain.
	(xxvi) To determine the value of an incentive clause for Salary Cap puroses, under either Subsection (xxii) or (xxv) above, such incentive claus-s will be valued using the Club's performance in the prior season in lieu 0	f the Club's current season performance. Thus, for example, if a Club had

Article XXIV, Guaranteed League-Wide Salary, Salary Cap, & Minimum Jeam Salary 1,000 offensive plays "last season," and an incentive clause were tied to a player's participating in 50 percent of the Club's offensive plays "this season," the incentive would be deemed earned, for Salary Cap purposes only, as of the time the player participated in 500 offensive plays. Similarly, such an incentive would be deemed not earned, for Salary Cap purposes only, as of the time the player had not participated in a sufficient number of offensive plays so that the player could not achieve the incentive based on last year's performance (e.g., had participated in only one of the Club's 502 offensive plays). Nothing herein, however, shall affect the player's contractual right to receive or not receive the specified incentive, based upon the performance level actually achieved during that year. (xxvii) If more than eight (8) different team performance categories are included in a Player Contract signed by a Veteran as incentives, all but the eight (8) incentives with the lowest dollar value automatically will be deemed "likely to be earned." For purposes of this paragraph, each conjunctive combination of performance categories shall be counted as one performance category (e.g., an incentive clause reading, "if A and B and C, then player will receive $X," shall be counted as one performance category), and each disjunctive combination of performance categories shall be counted by the number of disjunctive performance categories in the combination (e.g., an incentive clause reading, "if A or B or C, then player will receive $X", shall be counted as three (3) performance categories). In addition, any of the disjunctive performance categories may itself be a conjunctive combination of performance categories (e.g., the "A" in the immediately preceding example may be a conjunctive combination of numerous performance categories, and would be counted as being one category because of its conjunctive nature). (xxviii) Subsection (xxvii) above, does not supersede the terms of any other provisions or other agreements between the parties that automatically deem certain performance incentives to be "likely to be earned" or "not likely to be earned" depending upon whether the incentive fulfills other specified criteria. (xxix) Subsections (xxvii) and (xxviii) above, do not apply and the parties reserve their rights with respect to multiyear contracts containing team performance incentives in more than one year. Guaranteed Contracts. Any portion of Salary for which a Team fully guarantees payment for skill or injury shall be included in Team Salary during the year earned, except that: In a Player Contract entered into in a Capped Year, Salary fully guaranteed for League Years after the Final Capped Year will be included in Team Salary for the preceding League Years in which the Salary Cap is in effect, in any manner the Team chooses, if payment of the player's entire Salary for the Final Capped Year is not fully guaranteed. For example, without limitation on any other applicable example, and if the Salary Cap is in effect during the 2010 and 2011 League Years, and the player enters into a 130 essary), provided that any information derived from the access described in chis clause (2) will be held in confidence and will not be part of any file sub-J	ect to NFLPA review.

	(vii) The NFL will use its best efforts to ensure that any contract between the League, any Club, or any Club Affiliate, and any third party in connection with the sale or marketing of any source of TR shall include erms that provide to the Accountants and the NFLPA access to any and all inancial and contractual information and documents in the possession, custody, or control of such third party to which the Club, Club Affiliate, or any other entity controlled by the owner of the Club has any right to any access, relating to such revenue source or any other financial or contractual relationship or transaction between such third party and the League, the Club involved in the sale or marketing of such revenue source, any Affiliate (of that Club, or any of that Club's owners. In each case such access shall }	oe subject to and limited by the rules set forth in this Agreement or otherwise agreed to by the parties regarding the dissemination of information F	provided to the Accountants and the NFLPA pursuant to the audit process.
I	If the NFL, despite its best efforts, cannot ensure such access, the NFLPA
S	shall have the right to obtain an order against the Club or Club Affiliate from a court or the Special Master requiring that such access be allowed.
	(viii) Reasonably prior to the issuance of a Special Purpose Letter, the F	Accountants shall, as set forth in Appendix H attached hereto, notify des-gnated representatives of the NFL and the NFLPA: (1) if the Accountants have any questions concerning the amounts of revenues or expenses reported by the Clubs or any other information contained in the Revenue Reports submitted by the Clubs; and (2) if the Accountants propose that any adjustments be made to any revenue or expense item or any other informa	tion contained in the Revenue Reports submitted by the Clubs.

	(ix) In the event of any dispute concerning the amounts (as opposed to	includability or the interpretation, validity or application of this Agree-me	nt) of any revenues, expenses, or Player Costs to be included in the Reven	ue Reports, including any dispute concerning any findings or determi-na	tions concerning expenses made by the Accountants pursuant to the pro	ovisions of Subsection (iv) or Subsection (v), that cannot be resolved am	ong the parties (hereinafter referred to as "Disputed Adjustments"), suc	ch dispute shall be resolved by the Accountants after consulting and me	eting with representatives of both parties.
	(x) Notwithstanding the foregoing, either party shall have the right to	contest, by commencing a Special Master Proceeding pursuant to this reement, any Disputed Adjustments made by the Accountants, whenevsuch Disputed Adjustments for all Clubs are adverse to the party com-ncing the proceeding in an aggregate amount of $5 million or more in League Year covered by this Agreement. If the Disputed Adjustments all Clubs are adverse to the party commencing the proceeding in an ag-gate amount of $5 million or more but less than $10 million, the parties ee that: (1) the hearing will take place on an expedited basis and will not t longer than one full day, provided, however, that if, despite the reason-e efforts of the parties, the hearing cannot be completed in one day, the aring shall continue, unless the parties otherwise agree, day-to-day until ncluded; and (2) if the party that brings the proceeding does not sub-ntially prevail after the hearing, then that party shall pay the reasonable sts and expenses, including attorneys' fees, of the other party for its dese of the proceeding. The immediately preceding sentence shall have no plication to Special Master Proceedings in which the Disputed Adjustnts for all Clubs adverse to the party bringing the proceeding equal or seed $10 million. All other disputes among the parties as to the interetation, validity, or application of this Agreement, or with respect to any ary or Benefits amount included in a Revenue Report, shall be resolved the Special Master appointed by the Court pursuant to this Agreement, as	set forth in Article XXVI (Special Master).
	(xi) After receiving a Special Purpose Letter, the NFLPA shall have the _	ht, upon reasonable notice and at its own expense, to conduct an audit the League and any of its Clubs to further verify the accuracy of the in-mation in such Special Purpose Letter. Bennett Hutt & Co. or another liting firm replacing Bennett Hutt & Co. (subject to notification to and proval by the NFLMC, not to be unreasonably withheld, of such re-cement for Bennett Hutt & Co.) (Bennett Hutt & Co. or such replace-nt firm hereinafter being referred to as the "NFLPA Auditor") may copy cuments it reviews in the course of its audits and maintain copies of docnents reviewed in its office. Other than as set forth in this Subsection, the LPA Auditor may not show any such copies to anyone other than its pa	tners, employees, and agents. The documentation made available and

Article XXIV, Guaranteed League-Wide Salary, Salary Cap, & Minimum Team Salary the information contained therein shall be held in strict confidence and may be discussed only with individuals authorized in this Subsection, or as jointly authorized by the NFL Management Council and the NFLPA. The NFLPA Auditor may prepare one or more written or oral reports for the use of the NFLPA in connection with this Agreement, which may refer to and discuss the contents of documents reviewed, but which may not include copies of any such documents. Any such report shall not be referred to or distributed to anyone outside of the NFLPA or the NFLPA Auditor for any other purpose. If the NFLPA determines in the exercise of its judgment that matters discussed in the NFLPA Auditor's report may indicate a violation of this Agreement, then the NFLPA Auditor may show a copy of such documents that it considers in the exercise of its judgment to be relevant to such potential violation to counsel for the NFLPA (who as of the date hereof are also serving as Class Counsel), the Executive Director and General Counsel of the NFLPA, up to three (3) NFLPA staff personnel (whose authority to receive such information shall be disclosed in advance to the NFLMC) and up to three (3) members of the NFLPA Executive Committee (whose authority to receive such information shall be disclosed in advance to the NFL Management Council). In addition, a copy of such documents may be presented to the Special Master and/or a court in any proceeding to enforce this Agreement. At least four (4) business days prior to commencing any such proceeding based upon such documents, the NFLPA will advise the NFL Management Council of the alleged violation upon which the proceeding would be based; the parties shall stipulate to reasonable protective order terms and conditions to protect the confidentiality of such information. Except in connection with a proceeding as described in the preceding sentence, the NFLPA, its representatives and agents shall not refer to or distribute such copies to anyone outside of their organizations for any other purpose. (b) Projected Total Revenues For purposes of computing the Salary Cap and Minimum Team Salary to be applied in an upcoming League Year in accordance with Sections 4-5, and 10(a) above and Section 10(e) below, and for any other purpose specifically stated in this Agreement, Total Revenues for the applicable League Year(s) shall be projected ("Projected Total Revenues") utilizing one or more agreed-upon methods for the projection process so that the anticipated growth of Projected TR (based upon factors such as anticipated new stadiums, expansion Clubs, and revenue provisions in the NFL's television and other contracts) over the course of League Years which are anticipated to be Capped Years shall be as accurate as practicable, subject to any agreement between the parties to allocate TR over particular League Years pursuant to Section 1(a)(xii) above. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any difference between Projected TR and TR for a prior League Year shall be credited or deducted, as the case may be, in the calculation of the next Salary Cap and/or Minimum Team Salary to be set using the method set forth in Sec-139
